THE SPORTS THERE.

Boxing Exhibition Last Evening Drew Fair-Sized Audience.

Harden-O'Leary Bout, topped by Police --- 9 or Events Were Tame

Not since the palmy days of George Bush of California has such a distinguished number of sports gathered beneath one roof as assembled in Pease hall last evening allured there by the seductive posters displayed about town for the past two weeks announcing that exponents of the manly art would argue with soft gloves for a limited number of rounds.

If there is one thing a man possessing the least sporting proclivities de-ly loves it is to see two men facing each other in a regulation ring and whether they be experts or greenhorns he will invent all sorts of excuses to be there to see the "go."

Marshal Eastwick had taken every precaution last evening to keep the exhibition within bounds and Officer Hurley was given instructions and ordered to the hall as early as 7 o'clock. The officer's first duty was to buttonhole the managers of the affair and in a very few words tell them what they could and could not do.
There was a scratching of heads, a whispered conference in the ante room and then the box office opened up. The sportsmen came in pairs, singly and in crowds and the management rubbed their hands gleafully and promptly placed all money out of sight.

In the centre of the dance floor the city band stand had been erected and cir-fully laid to prevent accidents. On the ropes hung towels and other paraphernalia.
A piano player was getting lots of music from the hall instrument, and the fraternity in the gallery impatiently puffed away on cigars, all the while talking light.

At 8.15 Prof. Ricker entered the ring and was greeted with loud applause from the 350 people assembled in the gallery and on the main floor. He raised his hand for order and then appealed to those present to remain as quiet as possible during the exhibition and not to make any unnecessary noise or urge on any favorite.
We propose to give our exhibit on later on, and he, "and will bring together better talent from the large cities."

LEONARD VS. HAUGHY.
A couple of lads climbed through the ropes and threw off heavy ulsters. They were introduced by Referee Collins as James Leonard and James Haughy, both of Dover. They didn't look large enough to feel a good sized Jersey mosquito but fiddled about the ring like professional.
The first two rounds were light but the third was livened up a little and the crowd applauded as the kids left the ring with honors even.

BANKS VS. WELCH.
Joe Banks of this city and Fred O'Leary of Dover were the next couple introduced. O'Leary was a clean built lad and looked to be in perfect condition.
Banks' fighting position was of the keep away or I'll scratch you order and the audience roared with laughter. He jumped into the air and came down on his feet in true Killamey style and cut the air into boarding house shreds. Occasionally he handed a blow but he failed to swap even and would have been awarded

SEEMS QUITE FEASIBLE.

New System Proposed for Transmitting Money by Mail

A new system for sending money by mail will be introduced in Congress at its present session. It would enable one to send small sums without first going to the postoffice to buy money orders, and the added protection that it would give to the money in transit over the present method would no doubt lessen the tendency to send bills in ordinary letters. The proposition is to issue post checks of many denominations—five cents, ten, twenty-five and fifty cents, and $1, $2 and $5 notes.
Blanks are to be left for the name of the payee and the signature of the sender and the check becomes payable only to the person to whom it is filled out. Such checks will be redeemable at any postoffice. The sender pays the fee when he buys the check, incurring to the receiver the full amount that is sent.

A Three Cornered Race

A Concord wheelman broaches the idea of arranging a multi race between Mc-Lennis of that city, Greenwood of Manchester and Ira Newell of this city. All three are fast men, and show clever headwork to a right place. Young Newell is the ideal of the majority of the Portsmouth cycle contingent, while Manchester sports have undoubtedly confidence in Greenwood, and McLennis has a throng of backers.

It is believed that a mile race in three heats between this trio would be profitable of great interest. McLennis would willingly meet Greenwood and Newell Varick park in Manchester has been proposed as the best place for the races. As McLennis thinks of becoming a professional this year, the race would have to be re-ranged early in the season, while he is still in the amateur class.

Wilson vs Cleary

Two pupils of Prof. Ricker, James Cleary and William Wilson, then donned the gloves. Cleary had the advantage in reach and land d rather oftener than his opponent, although Wilson got in a number of good blows. Considerable fighting was done in the last round and both men left the ring tired.

Meredith vs Wilmot

Al Meredith of this city and Harry Wilmot of Amesbury, put up one of the toughest exhibitions of the evening. They disarded guarding altogether and did some prety boxing at close range. Meredith was very clever at dodging and in a hard contest would prove himself a fighter of no mean quality. Wilmot was clever but lacked weight.

Harden vs Wilmot

The event of the evening was supposed to be the go between Smiley Harden of this city and Herbert Wilmot of Ames-bury. The men have met on several occasions and are about evenly matched.
Last evening they appeared to be afraid to let out, no doubt due to the careful police supervision, and the bout was very tame. Four rounds were sparred and then the crowd quietly filed out of the hall to talk light on the street corners.

Annual Meeting

CHARITY IN FRANCE.

Society Women Nurse In Hospitals Where Lethal Diseases Are Treated.

Miss Anna J. Bucknell writes of French Wives and Mothers. In The Century. Miss Bucknell says: Ladies of the highest rank, who seem the most engaged by frivolous pleasures, will perform heroic acts of charity in the most unexpected manner. The Infirmary For Cancerous Diseases containing the most fearful and loathsome examples of that repulsive malady is regularly attended by ladies of rank, who have their days of duty when each in turn they dress the wounds with their own hands.
The Duchess d'Angoulême, one of the last known great French nobles, who spent her last years in the chateau of Combray, a few miles from Paris, was one of the most devoted of these ladies. She herself had her charitable functions which made her care to be particularly desired by the patients.

I know great families who when residing in the country have regularly drawn up the ranks of their daughters to the front of the wards, and some among the surrounding peasantry. The mothers in such families represent an important element in the work of the hospital. What will you tell me of the mothers who have their own children in the hospital?
I have heard of a mother who had a valuable necklace which she had worn for many years, and which she had just sold, and she had given the money to the hospital to be used for the benefit of the patients.

A reduction of rates of fire insurance.

The city debt paid up this week.

A bicycle tax in aid of good roads.

A street commissioner that will suit everybody.

The day when all the sidewalks will be cleanly shoveled off.

A big taxpayer who will not grumble at his tax bill.

The male citizen who is happy when building the kitchen fire.

The female citizen who can attend what parties regularly and keep her children's faces clean.

The Devil's Auction

Miss Mayne Mayo, who enacts the role of Janet, the milkmaid, in Chas. H. Yale's "Forever Devil's Auction" is a clever singing and dancing society, who possesses that which is supposed to be the important factor of success, viz. Beautiful and unaffected appearance, excellent voice, clear and distinct delivery and undoubted ability. Miss Mayo will prove a surprise to those accustomed to seeing the "soubrette aspirants of the average farce comedy and melodramatic production.

Freight Over Training Ship Contract

There is some hitch in the awarding of the contract for the construction of the new training ship by the Bath Iron works.
The contract has not yet been given to the Bath people. Supt. Hanscom of the company passed through here this morning en route for Washington to look into the matter. Mechanics in this section are anxious that Bath should get the contract as it means that the ship would fit out here.

Medicinal Lunch Laws In Bavaria.

It is curious to note that in some part of Bavaria a method of procedure which is called "Haberfeld" is still prevalent and is practiced by the people in case of illness which do not come within the scope of the ordinary law. Southern person offender's home and howl, fire rides and beat pots and kettles. A mock sermon making forth the offense of the person concerned is then recited in the hearing of the misdoer. — Notes and Queries.

Brought Here for Interment

The remains of Mr. William Harper Yeston, a native of Stratham, were brought to this city on Wednesday morning, the 19th inst., and conveyed to Proprietor's cemetery, where after the usual service, by Rev. Alfred Gooding, they were placed at rest by the side of his wife.

Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the State Law and Order league was held in the chapel of the Pleasant street Baptist church in Concord yesterday. There was a goodly attendance. The following officers were elected:

President, ex-Gov David H. Goodell of Andover, vice president, Prof. E. W.
Bingham of Derry, Daniel Hall of Dover, the Rev. Mr. Allen of North Conway, Rush Chellis of Claremont, Alvin

Capstick-Quinlan
Mr. Robert E. Capstick, the well known horist and head gardener at Hutchinson's green house, was united in marriage with Miss Mary A. Quinlan, a popular young lady of this city, at the Church of the Immaculate Conception this morning. Rev.
Father O'Callaghan performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate friends of the contracting parties. After the wedding service the party adjourned to the bride's home where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. Refreshing Mr. and Mrs. Capstick were the recipients of many valuable presents, and start out in life under most favorable circumstances with the best wishes of hosts of friends.
After a short honeymoon spent in Boston and New York, they will return to this city and take up their residence at No.
28 Washington street.

A State League
The idea of forming a state league of baseball teams representing the leading cities of the country was much discussed in this city today. At present it is difficult to state just what action the Somersworth Athletic association will take in reference to this project. This city is the home of the state champions, however, will be represented next season by a strong aggregation of ball tossers.— Somersworth Cur. Union.

The Police Blotter.
Six lodgers was the record on the police blotter this morning, not an arrest being made for any cause for several days.

WARWICKS RECEIVE.
First Ladies' Day of the Winter
A Grand Success.

Eastman's Orchestra Furnished Music and Dancing Was Indulged in.

The Warwicks opened last evening what promises to prove a most brilliant series of winter socials, which are to be given to the wives and lady friends of the members.
The handsomely furnished parlors and reception rooms never presented a more attractive appearance than they did last evening, and the handsome toilettes of the ladies added to the beauties of the occasion.
The card tables found the usual number of admirers, and whilst proved the popular game, while the male members played pool and billiards for their own pleasure and for the edification of their lady friends.
Eastman's full orchestra discoursed a fine concert program, which added just the necessary life to the occasion. A most appetizing lunch of cakes, ices and hot coffee was served during the evening by caterer Ralph Green, and the spread was admirably served.
At 10:30 the main hall was turned into a ball room, and soon the young ladies and gentlemen were enjoying a waltz to the timely music of our superb orchestra.
The committee having the affair in charge, scored a success that the ladies were not slow to acknowledge and extend heartily congratulations.
Among those present were the following:
Col. James A. Wood and wife, Col.
John Pender, wife and daughter, Miss Helen, W. D. Grace and wife, John H.
Bartlett, Alvah H. M. Curtis, Miss Paterson, E. O. Sessions, Miss Edna Scott

Not So Bad.
People often look with pity on the grimy coal heavers and think how unhealthy the work must be, but in reality it is no more so than many other trades. They, themselves, would much rather work at a carg of coal than to take a shovel on the street breathing poisonous gases that arise from sewers, etc. The coal dust, they claim, is harmless and from the looks of most of them it certainly must be admitted that they are not a very feeble class of men. Their health is due, doubtless, to the fact that they perspire so freely, thus keeping the pores open and in a healthy condition.
"The meanest cargo to discharge that I know of is sulphur," said a well known stevedore this morning. "Sometimes the wind blows the fine dust all over you every time a bucket is emptied. Your eyelids get covered with the powder and if you forget yourself and rub your eyes you will be sorry for it, for it inflames them terribly. A good many wear glasses similar to those worn by horsemen in winter to prevent flying particles of ice and snow from striking them. Coal may not be very clean work, but I would rather discharge three cargoes of that than one of sulphur."

Birthday Anniversary
Mrs. N. M. Shaw, mother of Mrs.
Clough, wife of City Treasurer C. H.
Clough, celebrated her birthday anniversary at the home of Mr. Clough on State street on Wednesday.
The auspicious occasion brought together the first reunion for several years of the children of the honored lady, and was represented by Judge A. W. Shaw of Westbrook, Me., Alderman Newell H.
Shaw and wife and Ex-Alderman Harris M. Shaw, wife and daughter, of Dover.

Don't Happen Here
The members of the New Hampshire delegation should make a note of the fact that two large steamers ran aground in Boston harbor yesterday and held hard and fast. Their cargoes were taken out and with the assistance of all the tugs the vessels were moved.

WORKING FOR A DRY DOCK
Augustus Stevenson Calls on Senators, Congressmen and Secretary Augustus N. Stevenson of Kittery has just returned from a two weeks visit in Washington where he went to personally deliver the various petitions secured in this city and York county asking that the Constitution be rebuilt at this navy yard.
The petitions were presented to Speaker Reed and a copy also sent to each member of the Maine delegation. Mr. Stevenson had a number of interviews with Speaker Reed and the other members of the delegation regarding the dry dock project and he came away encouraged over the outlook. Speaker Reed was going to do all possible for the dry dock but at the same time he must work to keep the appropriation down. He claimed to favor Kittery and would aid in every possible way. Congressman Dingley and in fact every member of the delegation said they would favor the dock. Chief Constructor Hiebhorn said many pleasant things in favor of Portsmouth yard. Mr.
Stevenson had an interview with Secretary Long about the Constitution and his opinions and assurances will please the public when they are made known.

PERSONALS.
Mr. Wm. H. Palmer is confined to his home by illness.
Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Peirce were in Boston on Wednesday.
Master Boilemaker Michael Long is confined to his home by illness.
Mr. S. Augustus Preble and son, Master Everett, are in Boston today.
Police officer Dennis Murphy is on the sick list and is confined to his room by a very bad cold.
Among the Portsmouth residents, who passed Wednesday in Boston, were Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Rand.
Conductor George McIntosh is enjoying a short vacation and has left on a few days' gunning trip down in Maine. Mr.
Frank Faulkner has taken his place during his absence.

A Big Vessel
The schooner Frank A. Palmer which arrived at her port this morning with a cargo of coal is the largest vessel of her class and has the greatest coal carrying capacity of any vessel afloat today. She is considerably larger than the five-masted schooner Governor Ames and can carry nearly 800 tons more coal. In the summer time the Frank A. Palmer carries 3190 tons of coal at a trip but in the winter time with so much bad weather the cargo is reduced to 3190 tons which is an enormous freight when it is known that nearly every vessel that comes here has less than 2000 tons. The Palmer was brought up and docked at the Concord wharf by the tug Howell shortly before noon today and work at unloading her will commence at once.

The Mysterious Mr. Bugle.
Within the past eighteen months Mrs.
Madeline Ryle has written plays which have been accepted by Nat C. Goodwin, E. H. Sothern, John Drew and Herbert Kelsey for production in this country and by Charles Hawtree for production in London. From this it is inferred that Mrs.
Ryle is one of the busiest American dramatists. "An American Citizen," played by Nat C. Goodwin, was said to demonstrate to excellent advantage the ability of the playwright, but "The Mysterious Mr. Bugle," as well, portrays the vivacious personality and ready wit of the author. "The Mysterious Mr. Bugle" will be presented tonight at the opera house.

Navy Yard Notes
The new naval registers have been received.
All the reports of the surveys on the Alliance have been forwarded to Washington.
Dr. Ayers was given a warm welcome by his friends on the yard.
The marines are being drilled in skirmish tactics.
Maj. Mead, U. S. M. C., is giving the men a few new orders to digest.

Needs No Mending
A pneumatic tire which needs no mending when punctured is composed of two rubber tubes, one within the other, with a sticky substance between them, which prevents the tube from moving automatically, but they can be turned by hand to force the punctures in the tube and lining out of alignment.

After Her Son.
A Boston woman was in town yesterday looking for her son who is a student in one of the colleges in that city. The young man came here several days ago, and up to last evening had failed to return. He could not be found here at-though he had been in town. His friends here are looking him up.

All Who Had to Live A Topham fellow thinks he has been sadly ill-treated. He went over to Bath to call on a girl the other evening, and less than three days broke out with the measles. A girl like that has no place on any fellows' visiting list.—Bangor (Me.) Commercial.

The Little cold snap the first of the week had a tendency to make those with half a mind, fully inclined to go to Florida, judging from reports at the various offices where Florida tickets are sold. At the Plant System office, 290 Washington street, Boston, one party purchased over six hundred dollars worth of tickets. Their trip covered several of the points of interest on the Plant System. A new edition of the "Glean and Rejoice" and a finely illustrated pamphlet of the new Fort Myers boat-l are the latest addition to the Plant list of publications. These, with the new map, will be mailed by J. A. Flanders,

Entertained Brother Officers Police officer William H. Anderson entertained the members of the Portsmouth police force at his new residence on Wi-burd street last evening and right royally were they received. The genial host and his most estimable wife soon made the officers feel perfectly at home and the evening was passed very pleasantly.
A fine supper was served to which ample justice was done, and the way those officers made the good things disappear was a caution. Chief Entwistle kept the company in good humor by his witty sayings and the officers returned to their duties very much pleased at the treatment accorded them by their brother officer and his estimable wife.
